

Wyla Dunlap

May 16, 1958 - January 12, 2024

Wyla Christine Dunlap was born May 16, 1958, in Chicago, IL to Irene G. Dunlap. In 1978, she decided to enlist and serve in the United States Navy. She spent time deployed in Pearl Harbor and Honolulu Hawaii and Virginia where she gave birth to her oldest son, John Cleveland in 1982 She was honorably discharged in 1983 and returned home to Chicago for a few years. In August of 1989, she gave birth to her youngest son, Jamal C Dunlap. Shortly after, looking for a fresh start, she decided to establish her home in Dallas, TX with her close friend and brother, Chase Lockhart where she remained until her death. Most people that knew and loved her, affectionately called her Candy. She loved to travel, she loved food (as small as she was) and she loved listening to good R&B music.

She is preceded in death by her mother, Irene Dunlap; her son, Jamal; and her siblings, Andre, Stuart and Tina Dunlap. She is survived in death by her son, John (Monique); her sister Cheryl, and her brothers: Duane (Eva) and Keith. She also leaves to cherish her memory to her grandchildren, nieces, nephews and a host of family and friends.
